

"y": 12.45

"x": 2.45

Sports Data Journalist - Handball

Together with EHF and Sportradar, we are offering a freelance position for acquired Handball fans interested in assisting us to collect statistics and match data in real time at the venue from matches across the European Handball Federation's top club competitions.

After successfully passing an online training process, payment will be made on a match by match basis 35€ by Sportradar.

Freelance data journalist position

Job responsibilities

- Attend Handball matches for statistic and data gathering in real time at the venue.
- Applicants do not need to be Handball experts, but has to know the rules and the teams.
- Understanding and demonstrable experience with modern communication devices.
- Comply with the moral code of the profession.
- Observe throw-off times, venue details and inform Sportradar when there are changes.

Professional requirements

- Good English skills (written and verbal) as well as full-aged.
- Good country-specific sports knowledge.
- Located in the country where matches will be played.
- High standards of professionalism, integrity and morality.
- Good observation and analytical skills. High attention to detail.
- Laptop with Adobe AIR installed needed.

